Grand Matinee

Pro Bono Publico!

Admission, Free. : Children, Half Price.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 1st, 1884, We will begin a series of Grand Matinees, unpara'leled in the history of Lexington, and will continue every day and evening, Sunday excepted, until January 1st, 1885, and perhaps longer, unless the music gives out. We have not quite Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars' worth of Dry Goods at less than cost but was a research it then some who are thickness of the series o cost, but we are nearer to it than some who are "blowing off steam."

Near the close of the season we find ourselves overloaded in many line of very desirable goods, and we concluded to unload and to give our friend the benefit of our mistortunes. There is nothing mean or small about us, and when we make up our minds to do our customers a favor, we do it with all our might. We don't cut prices on "Prints," Fruit of the Loom" and a lew other staples, and then swindle the gizzard out of them on Cloaks, "Overcoats, Rubber Shoes and Ten Cent Shirts," but we make right royal Reductions along the entire line. We quote prices on the BEST GOODS, we have. We make reductions which ney into our customers' pockets, and which will enable them to pay railroad fare fifty miles or more to trade with us. We can not afford to give quite as much as Vanderbilt to "jollify over the election of Cleveland and Hendricks, but we CAN and WILL give you more and better goods for your money than any other house in the county of Lafayette.

Below we give a partial list of the lovely music from which our audience can select at pleasure. We always play what is wanted. It you don't see 250 yards elegant Brocade Velveteen, popular shades, at $1. 500) ards elegant Plain Color Velveteens, popular shades, at 75c.
